

Floyd L. Moreland and Rita M. Fleischer, Latin: An Intensive Course (Berkeley: Univ. of California Press, 1990), pp. 134–135.

DRILL I

- | | | |
|---|--|--|
| 1. frater
magnus
gravis
ingens | 10. rumoribus
magnis
gravibus,
ingentibus | 19. spem
magnam
gravem
ingentem |
| 2. noctis
magnae
gravis
ingentis | 11. fratrum
magnorum,
gravium
ingentium | 20. manuum
magnarum
gravium
ingentium |
| 3. sidus
magnum
grave
ingens | 12. servitatem
magnam
gravem
ingentem | 21. provinciae
magnae
gravis/-i/-es
ingentis/-i/-es |
| 4. matri
magnae
gravi
ingenti | 13. corporis
magni
gravis
ingentis | 22. periculorum magnorum
gravium
ingentium |
| 5. sororem
magnam
gravem
ingentem | 14. rei
magnae
gravis/-i
ingentis/-i | 23. dono
magno
gravi
ingenti |
| 6. homine
magno
gravi
ingenti | 15. manus
magnae,
gravis/-es,
ingentis/-es | 24. bella magna gravita
ingentia |
| 7. homines
magni/-os
graves
ingentes | 16. manui
magnae,
gravi,
ingenti | 25. gladio
magno
gravi
ingenti |
| 8. sidera
magna
gravita
ingentia | 17. dies
magnus/i/os
gravis/-es
ingens/-tes | 26. nautae
magnae
gravis/-i/-es
ingentis/-i/-es |
| 9. regum
magnorum
gravium
ingentium | 18. fructibus
magnis
gravibus
ingentibus | |

DRILL II

1. This man is strong in mind [mente, ablative of respect].
2. This woman is beautiful in shape [forma, ablative of respect].
3. That citizen is healthy in body [corpore, ablative of respect].
4. Those men are unfortunate in (their) health [salute, ablative of respect].
5. The conquered soldiers are unfortunate in (their) life and vigor [vita et vigore, ablative of respect].
6. If he should go to Rome, he would not lack friends [eat, eo, third person singular, present active subjunctive—future-less-vivid conditional].
7. If the sailors do not go to save the city [for (the purpose of) salvation to the city], the fear will be great [urbi salutis, double dative; ibunt, eo, third person plural, future active indicative].
8. If he had gone (were to go) to the island, he would have been (would be) happy [isset, third person singular, pluperfect active subjunctive—past (present) contrary-to-fact conditional].
9. He goes to Rome; they go to Athens; I order them to go (that they go) to Athens [primary sequence]; they used to go to the city; I used to order them not to go (that they not go) to the city [secondary sequence].
10. The man, going to the province, was understanding.
11. Which is the daughter of the man going to the province?
12. I tell the man going to the province that (his) daughter is beautiful in appearance [specie, ablative of respect].
13. Depart from the province! [singular present imperative]
14. Attack the city with vigor! [plural present imperative]
15. Do not depart from the province! [singular present negative imperative]
May you not depart from the province! [negative jussive subjunctive]
16. Do not attack the city! [plural present negative imperative] May you not attack the city! [negative jussive subjunctive]
17. Friend, do not look at the mountain! [singular present negative imperative, with vocative] Look at the field! [singular present imperative]
18. My son, do not be oppressed by fear! [singular present negative imperative, with vocative] May you not be oppressed by fear! [negative jussive subjunctive]
19. Will not death be a good end to our life? [double dative: death will be for (the purpose of) a good end (fini bono to our life vitae nostrae)]
20. Soldiers have been sent to frighten the citizens [double dative: sent for (the purpose of) fear for the citizens].